NORWAY AND VICINITY
The W. C. T. U. will meet with the president, Mrs. C. N. Tubbs, at her home on Main street, Wednesday afternoon.
Sunday morning at the 2nd Congregational church there will be an attractive musical program rendered by the choir.

The pastor, Rev. Robert J. Bruce, will preach upon the theme, "Being."
Rev. B. F. Rickett, a former pastor of the Methodist church here, has accepted a pastorate at Bethel. For the past few years Mr. Rickett has been living in Lewiston and has had no assigned pastorate.

The question for discussion at the meeting of Norway Grange on Saturday, May 11, is the advisability of changing the Constitution of the State so as to allow the borrowing of two million dollars for building State Roads. Discussion opened by Dennis Pike and Alvin Brown.

Someone asked the other day what was the meaning of the word "Penneasewassee". Dr. G. A. Stephens, in his recent book "When Life Was Young" says the Indians "knew it as the lake where the women died," from the Abnaki word "penen-pagous-abem," in memory, perhaps, of some unwholesome tragedy.

Daniel Bryant of Bryant's Pond called on us last Tuesday. He visited town and has some troublesome teeth extracted. April 28th he celebrated his 79th birthday and all the children but one was able to be at the old home. Horatio Bryant of Bryant's Pond was there. Mrs. Abigail Swan of Portland, Mrs. Scott Merrill of Norway and Mrs. F. E. Davis. Mr. Bryant looks younger than his years.

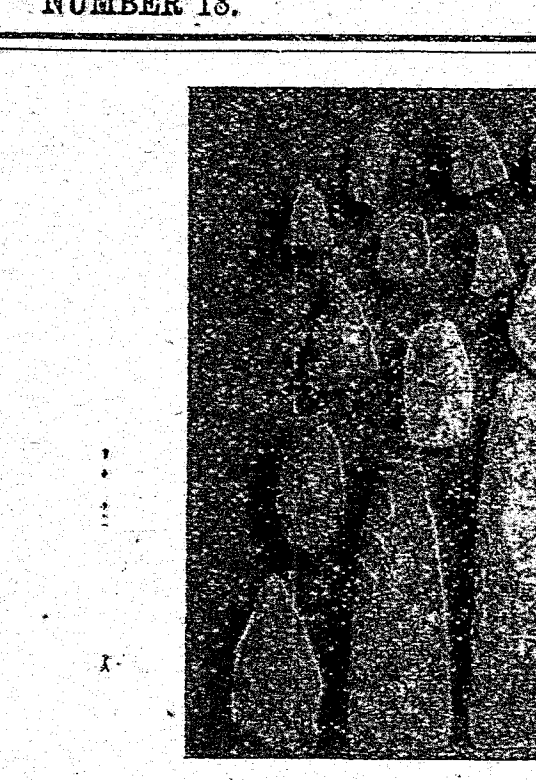

The Barton Reading club met with Mrs. H. P. Jones, on the afternoon of April 25th. There was a good attendance and the readings which were by Mrs. Geo. Holmes and Mrs. Merritt Welch were of much interest. The program committee gave out the plan for next season's reading, and it was accepted. At five o'clock dainty refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Holmes and Mrs. B. F. Bradbury. The next meeting was appointed with Mrs. Geo. A. Brooks.

L. E. Dow and wife left their home on Paris street last October and spent the winter with their son, Leon K. Dow, at Waltham, Mass. In the pantry they overlooked an egg which was in a paper box used for carrying oysters. On the return April 22d they found the egg, and it had neither frozen nor decayed. It was all right and used in making doughnuts. Their son, Leon K., works in the Waltham Watch factory and is liking there. Mr. Dow, senior, worked at carpentering with K. Watson, May. He came from Portland here some two years ago and bought the Matthews' place on Paris street. At this time his son Leon was working for the N. & D. Street Railway Co.

E. H. Jenkins, M. D., of Melrose, Mass., made us a visit Monday. He came to West Paris last Saturday to celebrate the 50th anniversary of his birth and visit his mother, Mrs. Chas. C. Dearborn. For some time in the early eighties he was the West Paris correspondent of the Advertiser and he and Dr. O. K. Yates, "Chickadee," applied us with the local happenings in that burgh. The doctor is representing the American Medical Association and called on the physicians in this vicinity. He is married and has a family of several children. His father was in the furniture business in West Paris and died in 1889.

Norway Municipal Court.

Wm. F. Jones, Judge.
State vs. Leroy Knight. Knight was arrested by Deputy Sheriff John McNeil at Oxford. On his person was quite a quantity of liquor that it was alleged was for illegal sale. He pleaded not guilty and as there was insufficient evidence and the officer wished more time for the matter the case was continued for one week. Knight was placed under $100 bonds until that time. H. M. Stone, the town clerk of Harrison where Knight lives, was the surety. It was stated by Knight that this liquor was for his use and that he had been in the habit of going to Oxford village for it.

Declines to Take the Lead.
Dr. H. P. Jones asked us the other day what we were going to do about a sewer.
"Nothing more," was the reply.

"I'll health reluctantly compels us to join the just staying-in-the-class in the community and ask for membership in the Down and Out Club.
"Sorry it's so doctor, but it's a fact we can't lead in the sewer improvement however much it's needed; have just got to follow the lines of the least resistance and take chances of getting through before the arrival of the general pestilence which sooner or later will come for want of proper sewerage."

Why don't you take up the cudgel and lead off? You are young and well and ambitious—if not you, there are others equally interested. You have a reasonably fair charter, a preliminary survey and an estimate of the cost and are assured the support of the Advertiser and a lot of citizens who live on the back streets.

In the slang of the great ex-President T. R., why not "go to it" and do some thing?
It's up to somebody besides Sanborn. There is Col. Stearns, Leon Curtis, Gene Andrews, Harry Whittridge, H. B. Foster and other live and enterprising citizens—do something.

Golden Wedding Anniversary.
On Wednesday, May 1st, occurred the fiftieth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram L. Libby. In the traditional and informal reception was held at their pleasant home on Deering street, where their many friends called to congratulate and wish them many more years of happiness together.

They were especially honored by the Browning Reading club of which she has been president for many years, and Mt. Hope Rebekah Lodge of which she is a charter member and Chaplain. Refreshments of punch and fancy crackers were served.

They received many useful gifts and quantities of beautiful flowers.
Their friends away showered them with remembrances and congratulations.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Smith entertained the Merry Eight, recently, at their home on Bridge street.
H. G. Jenkins is working for A. W. Walker & Sons. He will move from the Hazen bungalow on Pleasant street, to South Paris.

Howard Lasselle recently visited friends in Allston, Mass., and Boston. He called on Arthur Hart, at 125 Summer street, and induced him to accompany him to Norway for a short time. Hart has many friends here. He returned to Boston, Monday evening.

The Browning Reading club met Monday evening with Mrs. C. F. Whitman at her home on Crescent street. There was a good attendance present, and the magazine readings were by Mrs. Nellie Shepley and Mrs. Miriam Bruce. The next meeting will be with Mrs. E. F. Bicknell. The program will consist of roll call with quotations from Bruce Van Dyke; readings, Mrs. Miriam Bruce and Mrs. Thelma Lovejoy.

In J. V. White's show window laid a beautifully hand painted and artistic decorated embowered in lettuce. It was the handwork of J. W. Nash, and the fish came from Belgrade Lake. The time was appropriate as the ice had just left Lake Pennesseewassee, and it attracted much attention from local fish admiring experts. One said: "I've always claimed the trout from this lake are the finest colored and brightest marked of any in the world, the prettiest trout that swims, see that one?" He stood gazing affectionately on it with the others, not once thinking it was a lacquered beauty from Belgrade.

Thayer-Keene.

There was a very pretty home wedding at the bride's parents', Mr. and Mrs. Adney Keene's, corner of Cottage and Beal streets, Wednesday, May 1st, at 11 o'clock, a. m., when their daughter, Gladys May Keene, was united in marriage to Harold Theodore Thayer of South Paris, by Rev. Robert J. Bruce. The double ring service was used. There were no attendants, no decorations, everything was very quiet. The guests were the immediate relatives of the bride and groom.

The bride's wedding dress was of white laces, silk fringe trimming. Her traveling suit of two-tone blue and brown whipcord with trimmings of brown velvet, hat and gloves to match. The groom wore the conventional black wedding suit, brown traveling suit. Light refreshments were served at the close of the marriage service after which Mr. and Mrs. Thayer left immediately for Old Orchard, where they have taken a cottage on St. John's Avenue for the summer.

Mr. Thayer is a printer and has been employed at South Paris on the Democrat this winter. He will work at printing at Old Orchard.

Mrs. Thayer is a very popular Norway girl, a graduate of Norway High school. She has been employed in the shoe factory since her graduation. She has a fine voice and has often sang in public.

The only out of town guests were Mrs. Leroy D. Keene and son, William, of South Framingham, Mass., a sister-in-law and Mrs. Margaret Cummings of Roseland, an aunt of the bride.

E. W. Dyer of Skowhegan has been in town.
Frank L. Starbird has bought M. P. Stiles' team.
Ruth Bean and Edith Rideout, who are attending Bates, spent the week-end at their homes in town.

William Nelson has three horses in training on the fair grounds, Carlotta, Dandy Jo and a chestnut mare.
Mrs. Annie Knight of Winchester, Mass., has been spending a few days with her mother, Mrs. Clara Hayden.

Veranda club will meet with Mrs. Mand Mann, at her home, corner of Pearl and Deering streets, Thursday, May 9.
Mrs. Abbie J. Tubbs is spending several days in town and is having her hair done on Main and Danforth streets repaired.

The New Idea society will meet Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Elizabeth Andrews, at her home on Main street.
Julian Brown is having his kitchen sheathed and a hard wood floor laid. H. E. Mixer and Asa Frost are doing the carpentering.

J. C. Churchill, from Nebraska, an old acquaintance and friend, visited last Sabbath at the home of Hattie A. Small and Lizzie S. Davis.
B. N. Merrill, who has been spending the winter in Florida, left there Thursday morning, May 2, and will arrive home the first of the week.

Frances Bartlett after spending several days at Dr. H. L. Bartlett's has returned to her home in Norway. Miss Bartlett was recently operated on at Lewiston for appendicitis.

Henry Cullinan celebrated his birthday Saturday, by entertaining a party of his young friends and schoolmates. A very pleasant afternoon was enjoyed with refreshments of ice cream and cake were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Freeland Howe entertained Rev. and Mrs. M. C. Ward and Mr. and Mrs. George Cullinan, Friday evening, at their home on Pleasant street. The ladies present were graduates of the Emerson School of Oratory.

At Central Park, Saturday evening, May 4, there will be a double show. The Norway Dramatic Club will present the comedy, "A Family Affair," under the direction of William J. Flinders. There will also be a large number of interesting views of the "Titanic" disaster. Skating and dancing will be in order after the show.

After three years of faithful service, our night watchman, Ernest W. Hutchins, has resigned the position. We hope the corporation will get as efficient a man to take his place. During his term of service he has been very efficient and that but for prompt and intelligent action would have been disastrous, if not fatal.

The moving pictures at Concert Hall, Monday evening, were very good. Among them were Lost Courage, Declaration of Independence and Paul Revere's Ride. Marion Gibson furnished the music and Marjorie Barker gave several popular selections. The screen is placed at the right of the hall and the views flashed from the window on the opposite side.

There will be a dance at Grange hall, Friday night, May 10, under the auspices of the Verganda club. Music by Stearns' orchestra. Floor manager, Mrs. Bella Fletcher; aids, Mrs. Alta Sheen, Mrs. Maud Mann, Mrs. Jennie Spring. Ice cream and cake at intermission. Card tables for those that want to play cards during the evening.

We have an account book belonging to Edward Carson, who was born in Berlin, N. H., January 8, 1878. This book was picked up in the street and left at this office. Some of the receipts show the name to be J. B. Carson and he is evidently a member of Naples Grange, No. 94. There is a receipt in it for the Berlin Reporter for 1910. We want the owner to have this book.

The street sprinkler made its first public appearance for the season on Wednesday, at A. L. Millett proprietor and driver. Night here at the commencement of the season we want to say that the bill for street sprinkling is paid by the merchants and others along Main street. As is usual in such cases some pay more than their part and others, who are equally able and who get benefit from a well sprinkled street, do not pay anything. To be sure the water is shut off right in front of the business places where owners do not pay, but unfortunately the wind will blow the dust across the street where those who do sprinkle live and those who "don't believe in sprinkling" do get the benefit of the sprinkled street of those who do want less dust. The sprinkler has been newly painted this year, a reddish brown.

Bliss Business College 9: N. H. S. 4.

A fair sized crowd witnessed an interesting game of ball between Bliss Business college and Norway High school at the Fair Grounds, Saturday, April 27th. Until the 9th inning the game was close and interesting; the score being 5 to 4 in favor of Bliss. Excitement ran high as to who would step in and claim the game. Bliss did this in the 9th, when four men crossed home plate and the game was decided. Considering the team Bliss brought with them, the High school put up a good game and have high hopes of winning the return game at Lewiston, June 1.

A Measure of Merit

Norway Citizens Should Weigh Well This Evidence.

Proof of merit lies in the evidence. Convincing evidence in Norway is not the testimony of strangers. But the endorsement of Norway people.

That's the kind of proof given here. The statement of a Norway citizen.

O. I. Pitts, blacksmith, Main St., Norway, Me., says: "I was attacked with kidney trouble several years ago, caused by a cold settling in my kidneys. I suffered from pain across my back and sides and I also had difficulty with the kidney secretions. Hearing Doan's Kidney Pills highly recommended, I procured a box at Stone's Drug Store and began using them. They cured me, and for that reason I do not hesitate to recommend them."

The above statement was given July 24, 1908 and on July 11, 1911 Mr. Pitts said: "Since Doan's Kidney Pills cured me three years ago I have had little or no trouble from my kidneys. I recommend this remedy whenever I have an opportunity."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cts. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York sole agents for the United States.

The Two Giants.

By Elizabeth Merrill.

Prodded from old England, the great ship away, Cheers rang on the cool air, As it passed under the bay.

Dark was it and mighty Ribbed with iron and steel To conquer nature.

Perfect from tower to keel. Out of the weird northland Came a giant all in white.

No man saw this giant. It came at dead of night. Down through misty waters To those so still and calm.

Sailing to the south-west. Where grew the rose and palm. Night was cool and starlit. Each giant held its breath.

One was dark and sombre. While one was veiled with gray. One was built by God. Both on maiden journeys.

Over highway never trod. Slow moved the white giant. Fast sailed the black breast.

Like a bridegroom seeking bride. Calmly the white giant. They crossed the black breast. Then swept on to southland.

To find its long sought rest. Stars might have been gazing At giants of a day.

One to sink in ocean. And one to melt away. Parted loved and loving. On earth no more to meet;

Some have made the harbor. Some sleep at the sea's feet. Tears must fall for those that stay; And tell for those that stray.

Life for life was given. As the ship sailed by. Great souls softly singing "Nearer My God to Thee;

Doan's Kidney Pills. Though lost, far out at sea. Written for the Advertiser.

The Cruise of the S. S. Laurentie.

As Told by One of the Passengers.

The "Laurentie" was scheduled to leave New York at 9 a. m., Jan. 20th, and promptly on the hour she began to move, plunging her way through broken cakes of ice which closed together again almost as soon as she had passed through them.

A sturdy little tug had added the big ship in getting out and away from the start been accomplished that had it not been for the reeling shore we would hardly have realized our voyage had commenced.

The "Laurentie" might well be termed a floating palace equipped as she is with everything necessary for the comfort and convenience of her passengers. An "English ship with an English crew," she had been chartered so we were informed—for the two voyages to the West Indies, Caribbean ports of South America and the Panama Canal, by an American Syndicate.

We passed Cape Hatteras while breakfasting Sunday morning and experienced no inconvenience. The ship, large and steady, practically never only three years having elapsed since her introduction to old father Neptune.

She is furnished with combination turbine and reciprocating engines which relieve in some measure the erratic movements of a vessel when buffeted by wind and water.

Divine service was held in one of the dining rooms, and was well attended. The services were conducted by the purser, Geoffrey P. Rogers, a gentleman well qualified for the part, reverend dignified and possessor of a good voice.

A Statement of Facts Backed by a Strong Guarantee.

We guarantee immediate and positive relief to all sufferers from constipation. In every case where our remedy fails to do this we will return the money paid us for it. That's a frank statement of facts and we want you to substantiate them at our risk.

Rectal Ordinaries are eaten just like candy, are particularly prompt and agreeable in action, may be taken at any time, day or night; do not cause diarrhoea, nausea, griping, excessive looseness, or other undesirable effects. They have a very mild but positive action upon the organs with which they come in contact, apparently acting as a regular tonic upon the relaxed muscular coat of the bowel, thus overcoming weakness, and aiding to restore the bowels to more vigorous and healthy activity.

Rectal Ordinaries are unsurpassable and ideal for the use of children, old folks and delicate persons. We cannot too highly recommend them to all sufferers from any form of constipation and its attendant evils. That's why we back our faith in them with our promise of money back if they do not give entire satisfaction. Three sizes: 12 tablets 10 cents, 36 tablets 25 cents and 50 tablets 50 cents. Remember, you can obtain Rectal Ordinaries in Norway only at our store—The Rectal Store, F. P. Stone, 148 Main St., Norway, Me.

KRYPTOKS

Two Visions in a One-Piece Lens

There are two classes of people to whom this question is of vital interest. Do you belong to either?

The first are those who can read comfortably with their present glasses but are plunged into a hazy, indefinite world when viewing distant objects. They may be stumbling along the street to their personal discomfort, recognizing their friends with difficulty, if at all, and subjecting their eyes to a constant strain.

The second class consists of those who are trying unsatisfactorily to remedy just such conditions. Perhaps they are encumbered with two separate pairs of glasses of different "strength"—one for reading, another for distant vision. Or they may have resorted to the old type of bifocal glasses with their cemented lenses or separate segments in one frame, either possessing those ever present dividing lines which are a disfigurement and an annoyance to the wearer.

If you belong to either of these classes, here are some reasons why you should look into this question of Kryptoks at once:

Because they give you the two visions you require in one pair of glasses.

Because they are to all practical purposes single, solid lenses.

Because they possess no lines of demarcation and no segments; hence do not drop apart nor collect dirt in creases.

Because they are as graceful on the face as any pair of single vision eye glasses.

Because they are on more liable to breakage than the ordinary single focus lenses.

These reasons in themselves answer the question "why" conclusively. A second question immediately suggests itself—how? By what magic means have these long sought results been realized?

The answer is simple, after all, for magic means are nothing more than scientific means. A Kryptok lens is made of two pieces of glass of different substance and foci fused into a single piece of glass and ground as a single lens. The result is the highest step yet attained in the evolution of bifocal lenses—a problem which has commanded the attention of opticians for many years.

Kryptok lenses must be seen to be appreciated. Ask us to show them to you.

A SMALL CITY'S BIG STRIDES IN TWENTY YEARS

Lynchburg, Va., Has Made Remarkable Civic Progress.

The city of Lynchburg, Va., population 30,000, enjoys an enviable record of civic development during the last score of years. Twenty years ago Lynchburg's streets were ill paved, its main business thoroughfares were congested, the stores rendered hideous by wooden awning frames, while the side streets intersecting the main thoroughfares were narrow, unsightly and further marred by buildings here and there encroaching irregularly on the sidewalk line or building lines.

All the principal streets of Lynchburg now are well paved and kept well sewered, says Edward H. Mayfield. An efficient engineering department has done wonders toward widening grades, bridging ravines, modifying streets and installing most of the conveniences typical of a modern city.

Lynchburg has the reputation of being one of the hilliest cities in America. For many years this unusual topography was considered a handicap to development. In some cases the street grades are so steep as to render the usual method of paving or macadamizing worthless, and the expedient of laying cobblestones in cement with boulders as a binder in the gutters and tar macadam surfacing had to be resorted to that the streets might withstand the washing of heavy rains.

In spite of all these obstacles Lynchburg is now a city of well paved streets, with adequate sewerage facilities and modern sidewalks of either brick or granite. Even the hills for which the city is so famous are rapidly becoming an asset to the community by being carried on a scale impossible where the topography of the outlying country and the city itself is level.

Three years ago Lynchburg completed a waterworks system costing more than $1,000,000. Water is brought by the gravity system from Pedlar river, a mountain stream, twenty-seven miles away. It is abundant for the needs of the city at all times.

The public health department of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. S. S. Crockett chairman, announces the following subjects for use by all federated clubs and all other women's organizations desiring to co-operate:

November—Social Hygiene: Education in Home and School.

December—Tuberculosis: Ventilation and Fresh Air.

January—Tooth Hygiene: Tooth Inspection Day.

February—Clean Food: How and Where to Find It.

March—School Hygiene: Medical Inspection.

April—Conservation of Vision: Prevention of Blindness.

May—Infant Mortality: "Don't Kill Your Baby."

June—Food Sanitation: Needless Summer Dangers.

The entire health machinery of the federations and thousands of local clubs will be centered on this program of study, "talk," and real work, with new plans and original ideas, will be announced from month to month.

OIL GOOD FOR ASPHALT.

Drippings From Moving Autos Benefit Condition of Pavement.

In a discussion on pavement maintenance before the American Society of Engineering Contractors the effect on asphalt and bituminous macadam of drippings of oil from automobiles was discussed. Concerning this one speaker said: "If the distribution of the oil is very excessive it would be very injurious. If, for instance, an automobile stood for five or six hours a day dropping oil on a given area of pavement, the oil would in time soak in, but, on the other hand, a slight amount of oil dropped by moving automobiles on our excessively traveled boulevards is a protection to the pavement."

"The best asphalt pavement I have ever seen is in front of a Chicago hotel. The only reason that I can conceive for that being better than the other pavements of its class is because of the large number of automobiles that have kept the surface of the asphalt at all times coated with a thin film of oil, which, I believe, has kept the immediate surface in a durable condition. Such a slight quantity of oil as drops from the engine, followed by the spreading of the oil by the automobile wheels, is, I believe, a great protection to a bituminous pavement surface."

Headless Butterflies.

To the butterfly, unlike most creatures, the head seems to be not indispensable. Reporting some experiments to the French Academy of Sciences, Professor Viannay of the Lyons university states that a number of insect larvae were carefully beheaded and that in spite of this they went through the usual stages of metamorphosis. Caterpillars of the genus bombyx became mature butterflies, with fine colored, streaked wings. They were little troubled by their headless condition and lived for a considerable time.

A Narrow Escape.

A groceryman in a small town in Jersey had an exhibit of eggs in his show window. One day he removed the eggs and filled the window space with a brood of tiny chickens. A colored woman who dealt at the store happened to pass and stopped, aghast.

"Well, fo' de lan's sake," she exclaimed, "dem eggs ha'n't done gone an' hatched!"

"Well, what of it?" smilingly queried a bystander.

"What of it?" cried the colored woman. "Why, jes' fink what a narrow escape dat do angel cake dat I made do udder day had from bein' a chicken potpie!"—Philadelphia Telegraph.

Supreme Judicial Court.

The May term of the Supreme Judicial Court will open at Rumford on Tuesday, the 14th of May, with Hon. Leslie C. Gorham as presiding justice. The indications are that it will continue into the second week, as there appear several cases for trial. The court will be held in the building over Day Co.'s store, the best quarters for the purpose. The jury, however, have been summoned to be in attendance at two o'clock p. m., which will give ample time for all to reach Rumford by taking the early train up in the forenoon. This will save the county the expense of an extra day's attendance for the most of them.

Twenty-eight have been summoned and twenty-three have been returned to the clerk, C. F. Whitman, by the constables as given below:

Lewis C. Akers, Andover.

Harry W. Beards, Hebron.

Last Sunday, the members of Mt. Abram Lodge, O. O. F., and Rebekahs attended service at the Universalist church, the annual sermon being delivered by the pastor, Rev. J. H. Little.

The annual meeting of the Universalist parish will be held Tuesday evening of this week, to elect officers, hear reports of committees, and provide for the work of the new year. The last of June will be the beginning of the fourth year of Mr. Little's pastorate here.

The Bethel Board of Trade seems to be taking a nap, as only two or three including the president and secretary appear at the meetings when called. There is a grand chance for work in securing some new industry to locate here, which will give employment to the young people of our town when they become of that age where they want to earn their own living. Now most of them have to go out of town and away from home. New industries would mean more business for all, more money in circulation, more income for the traders.

Middle Intervale.

April went out summer like.

The family of Mr. and Mrs. Cousins of Kittery have moved into the house near Charles Abbott's. This is very near Mrs. Cousins' old home when she was a girl.

Here is an interesting clipping from the Maine Evangelist of 1870, headed "The Dispute." A venerable minister once preached a sermon on eternal punishment. On the next day some thoughtful men agreed that one of their number should go to him and, if possible, draw him into a discussion. He went accordingly and began the conversation saying: "I believe there is a small dispute between you and me, and I thought that I would call this morning and try to settle it." "Oh," said the good man, "what is it?" "Why," he replied, "you say that the soul of the finally impenitent will be eternal and I do not think it will." "Oh," he answered, "I answered, 'there is no dispute between you and me. If you turn to Matthew 25:46, you will find that the dispute is between you and the Lord Jesus, and I advise you to go immediately and settle it with Him.'"

The ball game on the V. I. G. grounds, Saturday, between Woodstock High and Oxford High resulted in a score of 12 to 1 in favor of Woodstock. It is to the credit of the Oxford boys that they put up a clean, plucky game against our boys, who were much older and larger.

The ball game on the common between the Woodstock Mohawks and West Paris Chickadees resulted in a score of 10 to 6 in favor of the invincible Chickadees. The West Paris boys certainly have a fine team and the best part of it is they believe in playing clean baseball.

Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Peaco have every good wish for their success this season.

In a recent issue of the Board of Trade Journal we noted that Portland is to have a general cleaning up day. A special day appointed in which every household is to be well and appearance of the city is to take hold and do something to beautify and clean up the city in general. While perhaps it would not be practical to have a special day for that purpose in this town, there is plenty of room for improvement and we each and all could do something in a greater or lesser degree towards making our village more attractive. We want this good old town to shine as it has never shone before, not only in our village but on the farms as well. Let every one interested in our home town make a special effort to make some improvement, even if it is only to trim up or set out a tree, or clean up a yard. The town that makes itself neat and attractive is bound to prosper. Let us pull together. It pays.

Hen Operated on for Appendicitis.

E. A. Brown has recently purchased a farm on Scribner hill, known as the Cobb farm, and is moving his family there. Mr. Brown, although a first-class poultry man, keeping a large flock and getting the most profit from them, deserves the title of M. D. or V. S. attached to his name.

A few weeks ago Mr. Brown had a case of appendicitis among his feathered family. He at once saw the advisability of operating and lost no time in preparing his patient, and performing the operation. The appendix was found somewhat elongated and inflamed. The operation was successful and in an hour's time the patient laid the "doctor" as egg as part payment for the expense incurred. The patient did well for one week, laying an egg each alternate day, but the keen eyes of a skillful doctor quickly noticed symptoms, and fearing bud had formed, the patient submitted to another operation, much care being taken that everything was "sterile" and "antiseptic." This operation proved to be more successful and the patient recovered quickly and has continued to lay his master many eggs.

We would add to Dr. Brown's store of knowledge that hydrogen peroxide is invaluable to use for all ailments peculiar to poultry. It has cured appendicitis, acute indigestion and cholera.

Mr. Brown's flock of hens laid over fifty dollars' worth of eggs in February. In four days last week they laid thirteen dollars' worth. Can you give us a better record?

Wear a Smile.

When everything goes all askew,
And the world seems upside down,
And the gossamers are prating,
Enough to drive you out of town,
Wear a smile.
Smile your brightest, smile your best,
Smile kindest brightest words of cheer,
Keep back the dark, rebellious sneer,
Wear a smile.
Despised? Despised no more!
Return good to thy evil foe,
Deep coils of fire upon his head,
By returning "good for evil," you know,
All the while.
If caught you've said, and meaning well,
Is misconstrued and lost from sight,
And if your kindly motives fail,
To do the good they promised quite,
Wear a smile.
Smile your brightest and your best,
Smile kindest brightest words of cheer,
Keep back the dark despairing tear,
Wear a smile.
Look at the rainbow through the mist,
See the bright sunbeams teasing down,
See all the good through every ill,
And change a smile to a hearty cry.
Wear a smile.
JENNIE E. SNOW KIMBALL.

The Maid Who Roars and Dies.

"Then I just roared!" said she
In telling of some pleasant—
An ordinary quip or jest—
To her in many mood addressed.
I shuddered, thinking that her voice
The warbling birds of May,
Could sometimes make a horrid noise—
Like growling beasts of prey.
As I myself can joke a bit,
I risk that awful roar.
"Oh, that is all right," said she,
In telling how she had been tried
In some sad case admirer
Had me long-winded love to her.
She told it so vivaciously,
With such a sparkling eye
"As she intended to think that she"
So readily could die.
That girl could be supremely dear,
But I could not adore;
She'd die or else she'd roar.
—Chicago Tribune.

HARRISON.

Baptist Notes.

The Old Fellows and Rebekahs celebrated the 93d anniversary of their Order in the State, Sunday, April 28, by attending the Free Baptist church, in a body. The church was prettily decorated by a committee from both Orders, with potted plants and flowers, and as a large part of the Easter decorations had been retained these were a great help. The service was largely attended and all listened to a very helpful and impressive sermon given by the pastor, Mrs. J. B. Coy. After her words of welcome she used for her text the first clause of Matt. 13-12, "How much then is a man better than a beast?" Her subject being "The Divine Estimate of Manhood." Special music was rendered by the choir. During the absence of our organist, Mrs. C. B. Sylvester, Mrs. Oliver Stevens has filled that vacancy.

The "Kindness Social" given by the Sunday school, Wednesday evening, April 24, was most certainly a success. Farm and Garden

GETTING RID OF A PEST.

How Vermont Has Found Means of Fighting Witch or Quack Grass.

Witch grass or quack grass (Agropyron repens) is one of the worst weeds, by many deemed the worst, found in Vermont tillage areas. The combat therewith is difficult, but not impossible. It is costly, but less so than to permit the unrestricted growth of the weed. The Vermont agricultural experiment station learned that a Windsor county farmer had succeeded in practically eradicating it from his farm by the employment of a special system of soil tillage or cultivation which was essentially the product of his own observations. A season's work by the station resulted in almost annihilating the pest on the trial plots and in producing enough corn over and above that grown on the untreated areas to pay in some cases the entire cost of the extra labor involved. The complete eradication of the weed often involves two successive seasons' work, the second of which is of the same character as the first, only less expensive and laborious. The following is a summary of the methods pursued:

GOOD FOR KILLING WEEDS.

Potato hilling side and center hoes, which when turned backward are such effective implements in weed killing. They are attached at the rear of the cultivator.—From Bulletin Vermont Agricultural Experiment Station.]

- Ridging the rows just before the corn sprouts, using a disk hoe or any other tool which makes a ridge over the row.
- Cultivating three days later with a five toothed cultivator or a heavy two horse hoe, carrying side hoes, such as potato hilling hoes turned backward (see the cut), drawing the soil away from the sides of the ridges previously made so that the subsequent harrowing can more effectively level them.
- Harrowing or weeding (preferably the former) the same day.
- Cultivating twice thoroughly a week or ten days later.
- Weeding the same day, still further leveling the ridges and improving the soil mulch.
- Cultivating thoroughly and shallow every week or ten days thereafter, so long as it can be done without injuring the crop, the oftener the better.
- Hand hoeing in mid-July.

PARSNIPS IN COLD WEATHER.

Let Them Remain in the Bed During Winter and Freeze.

Parsnips require no attention whatever during the winter. In fact, best results are obtained by leaving them in the bed during the winter and allowing them to freeze. The ground should be cleared of weeds in the fall. After the last hard freeze throw a few forkfuls of straw over the tops and leave till the ground thaws out in the spring. The mulch prevents freezing and thawing if the winter is an open one. Where the roots are desired during the winter they should be dug or pulled and stored in the vegetable cellar.

American farmers are constantly working to get more land, while British and Danish farmers study to get more out of the land. The results are equally different.—Wall Street Journal.

Easy to Force Rhubarb.

Rhubarb can be made a profitable crop in the winter time, as it occupies no valuable space, that is, need not be put into growing beds in sunlight. Under benches will do, or in sheds or even in a boiler room. The factors are heat, moisture, and darkness. Heat regulates the thickness of the stalks to a great extent. We can only force out the stored-up vitality which is in the roots, and a high temperature produces a long, thin stalk, while a more moderate heat gives us a heavier product. Fifty degrees to fifty-five degrees is a desirable temperature. It is not necessary to provide deep growing beds, all needed is enough earth to pack the clumps solidly and to hold the needed moisture.

WIN YOUR SPURS.

Young men talk of trusting to the spur of the occasion. That trust is vain. Occasions cannot make spurs. If you expect to make spurs you must win them. If you wish to use them you must buckle them to your heels before you go into the fight.
